

Hello Parents/carers and children.

I hope you are all well and adjusting to life at home.

I miss you all and I am beginning to get used to this new way of life. It really does help that the sun is shining for us! Long may it continue!

Mr Woodward has put lots of ideas for you on the website and there really is so much to get your head around. I am feeling over whelmed myself which I'm sure you are too, so I'm just writing a few suggestions of things you can do at home that may link with what we would have been doing in school. Please don't worry if you are not able to access all of it. Remember they are just suggestions and everybody's daily routine will be different so just dip in to what may be suitable for your child.

*I recommend starting the day with PE with Joe Wicks on his body coach channel at 9am. (I have been doing this daily with my son)

*If you are able to get onto the Twinkl website (link on the school website – Twinkl Daily activities) there are lovely suggestions for activities throughout the day if you'd like to stick to a routine. 9 – 11 age appropriate.

*Also, White rose maths home learning is great. It has daily maths videos and activities and links with our learning at school. If you don't have a printer you can jot down the answers to the sheets on paper and check your answers. The children can start with year 4 work and if they are in year 5 they can have a go at year 5 if it's suitable for them.

* There are ideas for topic projects (the homework sheet I gave out on the last Monday) related to mountains and rivers. This is on the class page. If you'd like a challenge you can complete 1 or more, take a photo and send it to Mr Woodward's photo page.

* I recommend getting out as much as possible in the garden, balcony or your daily short walk.

* Write for any opportunity, a journal, a story, a nc report on something that interests you, letters to family and friends.

* Keep doing TT Rockstars – challenge me if you like!

* Keep reading (daily if you can)

* A daily dose of art/ colouring / craft

* Singing to the radio / listening to lots of music

* Practise instruments if you have them. Perform to your family. Make a concert programme, tickets, etc.

* Log onto Purple mash. I have put some todos on that you can complete, if you hand them in I will give feedback! Thank you to those who have done this already!

* Most importantly, stay safe and have fun and be happy.

I'll write to you again next week,

Mrs Collins
