This week we will be looking at Good news: Jesus is a friend to the friendless.

Activity:

Can you think of 12 people needed to change the world?

Who will you choose for your team?

Will you choose a Doctor? King or Queen? Nurse? Dentist? Shop Keeper? Prime Minister? Teachers? Vicars?

What types of people will they be? Brilliant, admired and successful?

What qualities should they have? Strong, kind, clever, helpful?

Can you write or draw your ideas?

Jesus chose 12 men to be his world-changers, but they were not who people might expect. From Matthew 9:9-13 Jesus chose Matthew the tax collector as one of his 12 disciples, a man nearly everyone disliked. Here is a short video explaining this story.

Do you think Matthew was a good choice? Yes or No? Why?

Christians teach that Jesus brought good news because he was a friend to those left out by other people.
