

Dear Cornflowers and Parents

I hope you are all well and surviving the heat/rain (please delete as appropriate). I have posted up the usual activities including some more work on Tom's Midnight Garden, some comprehension questions and some maths challenges for you to work through. Don't forget to make use of the resources on the website, including the Oak Academy lessons and the Purple Mash daily activities. Mrs Mackey has again kindly posted up some tasks linked to our topic work as well as some tasks on Purple Mash so there should be more than enough to go at. Please keep checking that you are up to date with the tasks. I will go through the completed tasks at the weekend and mark them up to date and set some more.

I set a caption competition last week and have had a fantastic response in terms of quality if not quantity, and early in the week I realised I had given very little time for you to think about it and get your entry in. SO I will extend the deadline until next Wednesday and announce the winners in the next letter. Please have a go - we have a current leader but whether or not that changes is up to you!

That's about it for this week, so please keep busy, keep safe, and remember:

Faber est suae quisque fortunae
